Energy Safety has reviewed the updates contained in Supplemental Errata and determined that they do not materially expand upon or exceed the scope of the changes previously identified in Substantive Errata 2. Further, the supplemental updates were submitted one business day after the filing of Substantive Errata 2. Therefore, Energy Safety will maintain the existing comment schedule and allow the previously scheduled comments on PG&E's Substantive Errata 2 to also include comments on the Supplemental Errata. PG&E will be submitting a complete, updated version of its EUP with all errata changes identified and incorporated which will be posted to the PG&E EUP Docket by COB 11/09.[1]
